Response to Amendment

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-7 and 10-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The independent claims 1 and 10 recite negative limitations which are vague and indefinite such as "are not covered with an insulating tube". Also the phrase "a heat-resistant insulating material which is inserted between the conductive portions of said conductor forming said coil and covers a substantial portion of said coil, wherein said heat-resistant insulating material contacts the conductive portions of said coil" is indefinite since reading the specification and looking at drawings 1 and 14 it is not apparent that one skilled in the art could build said coil. The specification regarding drawing 14 it is not apparent if part number 5 is included in the invention or not. Also are the heat resistant material and the insulating material one and the same and which or are both included in the drawings. All claimed subject matter must be shown in the drawings or the matter removed from the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-7 and 10-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Nagahira(U.S.Pat.6,605,802).
